

StatCrunch Instructions

In order to use StatCrunch to examine a dataset, you will need to first download the dataset from StatTutor to your computer, and then upload the dataset from your computer to the StatCrunch website. Here are instructions for both of these steps:

(1) Download the dataset from StatTutor to your computer

- a. Click on the link in StatTutor that says “Download StatCrunch Dataset.”

(2) Upload the dataset from your computer to the StatCrunch website

- a. Open a new browser window and go to <http://www.statcrunch.com>.
- b. Log in to StatCrunch using your username and password.
- c. Click on the link “Open StatCrunch” at the top of the “My StatCrunch” page.
- d. To open the dataset, choose Data → Load → From file → on my computer.
- e. Select “Browse” or “Choose File” (depending on which browser you’re using) and then select the dataset you downloaded in step (1).
- f. Scroll to the bottom of the page and click “Load File.”
